Actors Wanted!

Ever wanted be the one who found the snail in the bottle?
To be wheezy and demand a carbolic smoke ball?
Got lost going into uni and ended up at NIDA instead?
Then the UNSW Client Interviewing Competition wants YOU!

We are looking for students to act as 'clients' in the simulated Quarter Finals of the Client Interviewing Competition in Week 3 from either 6:00-6.30pm or 7:00-7.30pm at UNSW. Each 'interview' goes for half an hour, and you will be rewarded with cookies for your time and effort. The fact scenario will be given to you a day beforehand - so you have plenty of time to get into character!

Just send an expression of interest with your name, email and contact phone number to client@unswlawsoc.org with the subject 'Client Interviewing Actors'.

Internship Opening!

"The case against Hissène Habré"

Brussels Office

Two Positions (September 2010)

Apply Immediately

Human Rights Watch has been working for 11 years with the victims of Chad's exiled former President, Hissène Habré, to bring him to trial. In July 2006, at the request of the African Union, the President of Senegal, where Mr. Habré lives in exile, agreed to prosecute Mr. Habré. Final negotiations are now underway on a budget for the trial and an international donors meeting is expected in October 2010.

Please visit <http://www.hrw.org/en/habre-case> (English), <http://www.hrw.org/fr/affaire-habre> (French) for more information.

Internship Description:

Human Rights Watch is seeking two full-time interns in its Brussels office to assist with HRW's work on the case against Hissène Habré. The internship will last a minimum of four months starting in September 2010, though six months would be preferred. The interns will be supervised by HRW's Counsel in this matter, and will help HRW keep in touch with HRW's partners in Senegal and Chad, draft advocacy letters and press releases, monitor press and events and assist with research. The interns will also be responsible for administrative tasks, including filing, translating, accounting and helping staff and partners with travel arrangements.

This internship is unpaid. Students are often able to arrange academic credit, as HRW internships often offer direct exposure to the workings of an international human rights organization, close supervision by the HRW staff, interaction with other U.S. and international organizations and foreign and domestic government officials, and opportunities to attend lectures, trainings and special events relating to human rights. Students should check with their individual academic institutions for requirements.

Qualifications:

These internships are open to law students, law graduates and graduate students with expertise in international criminal law or international relations. Applicants should be well-organized, self-motivated and reliable, with a strong interest in international human rights and/or international criminal law.

For one position, Oral and written fluency in French, and very good English is required, for the other, oral and written fluency in English, and very good French is required. Computer skills (i.e., Microsoft Office, Internet applications) are required.

How to Apply:

Please apply immediately by emailing a letter of interest in English and French, resume, names or letters of reference and, if possible, a brief, unedited writing sample in French or English, (no calls or email inquiries, please) to: gcd\_ib1@hrw.org. Please use "Habré Internship Application -September 2010" as the subject of your email and specify your dates of availability. Only complete applications will be reviewed.

Human Rights Watch is an equal opportunity employer that does not discriminate in its hiring practices and, in order to build the strongest possible workforce, actively seeks a diverse applicant pool.

* * *

Human Rights Watch is an international human rights monitoring and advocacy organization known for its in-depth investigations, its incisive and timely reporting, its innovative and high-profile advocacy campaigns, and its success in changing the human rights-related policies and practices of influential governments and international institutions.
